

ARE SURPRISED AT BREAKFAST

Filipino Rebels Kill 48 Members of Co. C, Ninth Infantry.

ELEVEN ARE HURT

Only Thirteen Men, Including Capt. O'Connell and Two Officers Escape.

OTHERS MAY BE DEAD

Manila, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from General Hughes commanding in the island of Samar reports the arrival of a sergeant and private from the fight at Balangiga with the information that Captain Connell, Dr. Griswold and Lieutenant Bumpus were killed also in that disastrous affair. The first report said that these officers had escaped. The attacking force consisted of four hundred Bolomen; were slain by the Americans. The attack was so sudden that many of our soldiers were cut down before they could get to their arms.

Another report from Chaffee on the Balangiga disaster says the insurgents captured all but three of the rifles instead of twelve as first reported.

Manila, Sept. 30.—Like a flash of lightning from a clear sky, comes the news of the cutting to pieces yesterday in the island of Samar, near Balangiga, of Company C, Ninth United States Infantry, by an overwhelming force of insurgents.

Of the seventy-two men composing the company, forty-eight were killed and only twenty-four succeeded in escaping, of whom eleven were wounded. The survivors have reached Bassey, in the southern part of Samar.

Surprised While at Breakfast
The company was at breakfast when attacked and made a determined resistance, but the great numbers of the insurgents compelled the men to retreat. The insurgents captured all of the stores and ammunition of the company and all of the rifles except twelve. General Hughes is assembling a force to attack the insurgents.

Another American Loss
Capt. Lawrence J. Hearn of the Twenty-first Infantry reports a severe engagement with insurgents near Candelaria, the Americans losing two killed and one wounded. The insurgent loss has not been ascertained. The Americans captured thirty one pounds of rice and several hundred rounds of ammunition.

Excitement in Manila is at fever heat and an attack on the city will be guarded against by the reinforcement of walls and sentries.

Shocked in Washington
Washington, Sept. 30.—Washington was surprised and shocked by the news from Manila that forty-eight of a company of seventy-two men had been killed and all of the survivors wounded by the insurgents on Samar Island. This is the greatest loss sustained by the Americans in the Philippines or elsewhere in any single engagement, whether skirmish, battle or ambush since the war was declared with Spain. On this account the sanguinary affair at Balangiga assumes importance that is conceded to it even by high officers of the army.

General Corbin was deeply agitated as well as shocked by the news. He personally carried a copy of the message to the White House and delivered it to President Roosevelt.

Roosevelt Eager for Details
The president could hardly believe that a company of American soldiers had been ambushed and two-thirds of their number killed. He ordered that he fullest details of the disaster be obtained from General Chaffee at the earliest possible moment. He was greatly shocked at the fate which seemed to have overtaken the men of the Ninth regiment.

Natives Are Fierce Malays
The island of Samar belongs to the Visayan group of the archipelago. Its inhabitants, unlike those of Luzon, where most of the fighting has occurred in the past, are not Tagalos. They come under the general classification of Malays. They are a fierce people maintaining liberal relations and governments, but curiously, until the present time have given the American army little or no concern.

Samar a Wild Province
Samar is a country about as large as the state of Ohio and the American forces of occupation number in all between 2,000 and 2,500 men. These are distributed among various posts in the island, a large number being located at the more important centers. Spain never made any attempt to occupy Samar, and it has only been for probably the past three months that the United States has undertaken that work. The latest report made by General Hughes to the war department was that the number of insurgent rifles in the island aggregated about 400.

DECISIVE RACE TO BE RUN TOMORROW

The Experts Say the Swifter Boat Is Bound to Win on the Triangular Course.

New York, Sept. 30.—There is only one sentiment at the New York Yacht club today regarding tomorrow's race and that is that it will be the decisive race for the cup. A triangular course with ten miles to each angle will show up the maneuvering qualities of the two yachts. The swifter boat is bound to cross the line first. If the Columbia wins the next race, it will mean demoralization for the British contingent and if the Shamrock wins Tuesday's race, the moral effect will be what the New York Yacht club members fear most.

CARNIVAL WEEK AT THE BUFFALO FAIR

The Pan-American Exposition Will Be Given Over to Rex and the Days for States.

Buffalo, New York, Sept. 30.—This is carnival week at the Pan-American exposition. Early on Monday morning preparations will be instituted by which his Majesty Rex may be fittingly received upon his triumphal entry to the City of Light. On the same evening Rex and the members of his court will enter upon the scene of festivity and assume control. The program for the week consists of brilliant spectacles and dignified formal ceremonies for each day.

On Tuesday Mexico will celebrate. His Excellency, Senor Aspirio, with other members of the embassy will be in attendance. All the Mexican Consuls from New York City, Buffalo, Chicago and St. Louis are expected. Special events are set for all the other days of the week.

Episcopal Convention

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—The majority of the lay and clerical delegates to the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, which opens Wednesday have arrived. The principal matter to be discussed will be the change of the name of the church and the proposition to refuse Protestant Episcopal clergy permission to marry divorced persons.

Earthquake in Scotland

London, Sept. 30.—Another earthquake was felt at Inverness, Scotland, today. The residents were greatly frightened. About a week ago two shocks were felt and some damage was done to property.

STANDARD OIL IN ST. PAUL ROAD; SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ELECTION

Directors' Annual Meeting Was Held in Milwaukee on Saturday Afternoon—Ogden Armour Succeeds His Father—Old Officers Re-elected.

Milwaukee, Sept. 30.—Directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad met in the general offices of the company in the Mitchell building, Saturday afternoon, and, after re-electing the old officers for the ensuing year, chose J. Ogden Armour to succeed his father, the late Philip D. Armour, on the directorate, and Henry H. Rogers of New York to succeed A. Van Santvoord.

The polls were open from ten a. m. until four p. m. and 534,885 votes were cast out of a possible 881,000. The directors present were: Frank S. Bond of New York, A. J. Earling of Chicago, Peter Geddes of New York, Frederick Layton of Milwaukee, Roswell Miller and William Rockefeller of New York. Mr. Armour also attended.

The Officers Elected
The following officers were re-elected: Roswell Miller, New York, chairman of the board; A. J. Earling, Chicago, president; P. M. Myers, Milwaukee, secretary; E. W. Adams, Milwaukee, assistant secretary; J. M. McKinlay, New York, assistant secretary and transfer agent; F. G. Ranney, Chicago, treasurer; John McNab, Chicago, assistant treasurer; W. N. D. Winne.

W. C. GRAY, EDITOR OF INTERIOR, DIES

Well Known Publisher of the Presbyterian Weekly Newspaper—He Had an Active Career.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Dr. William C. Gray, the well-known editor of the Interior, the organ of the Presbyterian church, died at 1:07 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, No. 217 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park.

The death of Dr. Gray has been expected for several weeks and at different times his physicians have given him up. Since his return some time ago from his summer home in Wisconsin, he has been gradually failing.

At 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon Dr. Gray's family was summoned to his bedside as death was imminent. Up to Saturday noon Dr. Gray had retained consciousness. Rev. Dr. N. D. Hills of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, will preach the sermon.

William C. Gray was born in Butler county, Ohio, October 17, 1830. He was married when he was twenty-six years of age. Dr. Gray's life was one of toil and he was seldom known to take a vacation. With brief interruptions he worked upon newspapers for more than fifty years. He became editor of the Miami Democrat while he was studying law in 1851. The next year he was admitted to the bar, but continuing his newspaper work, took the editorship of the Scott Battery in the campaign of that year. The next year he established the Tiffin (Ohio) Tribune. In 1863 he joined the editorial staff of the Cleveland Herald. The next year he again became an editor, this time of the Newark American. He remained in that position until he took charge of the Interior in 1871. In addition to his editorial work, he published several volumes of sketches. The best known of these are "Camp Fire Musings" and "Clear Creek."

Urges Beer Tax Reduction

Washington, Sept. 30.—There are signs already that the brewers are organizing to secure a further reduction of the internal revenue beer tax. The advocates of the beer reduction claim that there is a large surplus in the treasury, with promise of a greater one, and, furthermore, that the reduction made at the last session of congress did not lower the receipts of the internal revenue office to the extent estimated. It was estimated that the war tax reduction bill which passed in the last session would bring the internal revenue taxes down to the extent of about $40,000,000. Instead of that it now seems that the reduction will hardly go below $25,000,000.

Big Iron Combine Planned

Sharon, Pa., Sept. 30.—It is stated that definite steps have been taken to ward the consolidation of a large number of malleable iron manufacturing concerns in this country. According to advices several concerns in Milwaukee, one in Racine, one in Moline, Ill., several in Chicago, and one in each of a score or more towns and cities scattered in the east and west, are to be included in the merger. It is stated that J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., New York, are back of the deal.

New Lord Mayor of London

London, Sept. 30.—Sir Joseph Dimsdale, M. P., who is engaged in the banking business, was elected lord mayor of London at the Guildhall for the ensuing year to succeed Frank Green. The election was accompanied by the usual quaint customs.

York Reaches Vancouver

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 30.—The Duke and Duchess of York arrived here this morning and were given an enthusiastic reception.

NATIONS MAY CLASH

British Naval Force Concentrating in the Persian Gulf.

Bombay, Sept. 30.—A British naval force is concentrating in the Persian gulf. Three warships are already on the spot and they will be augmented by the gunboat Assaye, which has already left Kurrachee, and the flagship, the second-class cruiser Highflyer. The third-class cruiser Pomone will also sail for the Persian gulf as soon as she has coal. It is believed that fresh trouble is impending at Koweyt. According to a report, Turkey has 30,000 troops at Basra (on the Shat-El-Arab, seventy miles from its mouth in the Persian gulf), commanded by Edhem Pasha, with the object of seizing Koweyt, though the Turks assert that the troops are intended to traverse Arabia with the object of suppressing disaffection in Yemen.

EGGLESTON IS ILL

Noted Indiana Author Reported as Being a Sick Man.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—Edward Eggleston, one of Indiana's best-known authors, is in such ill health that he fears he may not be able to complete his history of the United States. He stopped here on his way from New York to his old home at Madison, Ind., where he proposes to take a brief rest in order to recuperate.

J. H. HAVERLY IS DEAD

Noted Minister Expires in Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake city, Utah, Sept. 30.—Colonel J. H. Haverly, the "father of minstrelsy," died at St. Mark's hospital here after an illness of several weeks. Death came as a result of typhoid fever. Colonel Haverly was well known in Chicago, where he made his first venture in the show business and where he was prominent in the theatrical world. He lived in Chicago several years during the time he operated theaters in nearly all the big cities of the country. J. H. Haverly in the short period of fourteen years, when he was at the zenith of his success, cleared above all expenses the magnificent sum of $3,500,000. Seven fortunes he made and lost. In all his theatrical ventures he was followed by a luck that was almost miraculous, but when he deserted the business of furnishing amusement for the people for the more alluring pursuit of wealth in Wall street and on the Chicago Board of Trade, his riches shrunk nearly as rapidly as they had grown.

LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES ARE HEAVY

A Sanguinary Conflict Between the British and Boers on the Zululand Border.

Durban, Sept. 30.—Fifteen hundred burghers under the Command of Botha were repulsed on the twenty-sixth after an all day attack on the Portiolas, on the Zululand border. The losses on both sides are heavy. The Boer Commandant Opperman and nineteen men were killed. The British losses were one officer, eleven men killed, five officers and thirty-eight men wounded and sixty-three missing.

OYSTERS ARE FINE THIS SEASON; DELUGE OF RAIN MADE THEM FAT

The Downpour Filled the Fresh Water Streams with Vegetation and Frought the Bivalve's Food.

New York, Sept. 30.—An announcement that will be received with joy all over the country is that oysters will be exceptionally fine and plentiful this season. While the West has been suffering from drought, the Atlantic seaboard has been deluged with rain. This generous downpour is responsible for the large and luscious oyster crop, for, according to an old oyster man: "Oysters need rain just as much as vegetables do. It is necessary for the oysters to be fed by the vegetation and growths carried down to the salt-water bays by the fresh water streams, and in seasons of drought the supply of food is cut off. Because of the large amount of food available for the oysters this year, they are fat, luscious and of fine flavor."

This same authority on the cultivation of oysters says: "The planters who raise the finest oysters take them to drink just as a farmer waters his cattle. One big firm of wholesalers in New York recently constructed a mill pond on Jamaica bay expressly for this purpose. The firm brings its oysters from its various beds, some of them as far away as New Jersey, and drops them overboard in the bay at the mouth of the outlet to the pond. "The oysters are dropped in when the tide is half low, and they are taken up at low tide. The oysters are left in this comparatively fresh water from two to two and a half hours. If they are left too long they drink back the sea water and this detracts from their flavor. Immediately after their fresh water draught, the oysters are shipped to market. "If you crack the bill of an oyster it will die. This is why raising them with tongs is preferable to raising them with a drag rake while the vessel is in motion. "There are from 200 to 500 oysters in a bushel and the usual cargo of the oyster boats of this port is from 500 to 1,000 bushels. The average number of oysters brought to this port for distribution throughout the country is 25,000,000 a day during the season."

TRY TO BLOW UP M'KINLEY TOMB

Military Guards Attacked by Prowling Ghouls Who Carry Packages.

STAB ONE SOLDIER

Belief General in Canton That an Attempt Was Made To Destroy the Vault.

STIRS UP THE TOWN

Canton, Sept. 3.—The city is astir today over the assault on Guard De Prend at the vault in which McKinley's body rests. Some advance the theory that one of the men who broke jail here last night made the attack in an effort to secure a rifle with which to protect himself against the pursuing officials. The belief is general, however, that the attack was part of a plot to blow up the tomb.

PLOT TO BLOW UP THE VAULT

Disgraceful Attempt to Destroy the McKinley Tomb Last Night.

Canton, Sept. 30.—Military men guarding the McKinley vault report an attack upon the guard early last night by armed and masked men, carrying packages supposed to contain explosives. It is thought an attempt was made to blow up the vault. Guard De Prend, a private in the company of regulars from Fort Wayne, Mich., while on duty at the rear of the vault, about 7:45 o'clock, noticed a man peering from behind a tree about forty feet from the vault. He watched it for twenty minutes and then challenged the intruder, who made no response, but dodged back of the tree. The soldier then advanced, challenging a second time, and the man came out and ran toward De Prend, sheltering himself behind a second tree twelve feet nearer the vault.

Shot Was Diverted

De Prend, noticing that the fellow was carrying a package wrapped in white in one hand and a glinting instrument in the other, took no further chances, but brought down his rifle and fired. Just as he did so, another man, approaching from behind, and whom he had not seen, struck up the rifle and at the same moment dealt De Prend a terrific blow on the body with some instrument. The guard was stunned, and a second blow, this time evidently with a knife, cut through his overcoat and blouse, abraded the skin and sent him tumbling into a ravine near the vault. Meanwhile the shot had aroused other members of the guard. Lieutenant S. Ashbridge, officer of the day, and others ran to the spot, but owing to the fact that they had to climb a steep hill the marauders had disappeared before they arrived.

Soldier Has a Good Record

De Prend, who was recruited in New York four months ago, is said to be an excellent soldier. His record is such that he is out for a commission. His superiors have not the least cause to doubt his story. On the contrary others say they saw men about there in the evening, that answer his description. The man who attacked De Prend was masked. The other, he says, he could easily recognize. Stories are afloat in the soldiers' camp that a stranger was overheard to say Sunday in the cemetery that "there are many people who would like to see the vault and the body blown up."

Meant to Destroy the Vault

B. T. WASHINGTON AT WHITE HOUSE; TALKS WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

They Want the Color Line in Politics Eliminated in the South—Would Benefit Whole Country.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt had for his guest at the White House last evening Prof. Booker T. Washington, principal of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute at Tuskegee, Ala. Professor Washington's work for his race in the South has long been known to the president and the two men have been friends for years.

The purpose of President's Roosevelt's proposed visit to the South this fall, arranged before he became president, was to visit the Tuskegee institute and encourage the work there for the negro race by one of the ablest men in the race. When the president learned that Professor Washington was in the city he invited him to spend the evening at the White House.

The president is very much in earnest in his desire to see the color lines in the South cease to define the lines of division between the political parties. He has expressed this hope to Southern Democrats and Republicans, whites and negroes. With him it is one of the most important questions in our politics. McKinley having to a large extent broken down the sectional lines, Roosevelt desires to carry that national policy further and begin the removal of party lines from the old color line in the South.

He believes it will be a great benefit to the South, as well as to the whole country, to have the party divisions in the South as they are in the North, without regard to the color line. He hopes to see the white men of the South exercising political freedom and voting for the economic policies which they regard as best for their own business interests and the country's welfare.

He believes that beginning has been made in the South, where there are many gold democrats as much opposed to the free-silver declarations of the democratic platform as are republicans, and where southern democrats have been bold enough to support the expansion policy and also the protective policy of the Republican administration.

President Roosevelt hopes to see this growth of Republican principles in the South continue, and he will give it every encouragement he can during his administration.

RALLY DAY IN BAPTIST CHURCH

SPECIAL EXERCISES AT SUNDAY SCHOOL HOUR.

Popular Services Draw Crowds to the Baptist Church—Busy Times in Church Circles This Week—Pastors Will Attend State Meetings—Church News and Notes.

Yesterday was rally day in the Sunday school of the Baptist church and it was observed very happily with a special program of exercises at the Sunday school hour. Both the children and the older people participated in the program which was very fine, every number being well rendered and listened to with appreciative interest. The orchestra numbers were especially fine, the musicians being ten in number and playing together harmoniously.

W. H. Rose, assistant superintendent of the school, had charge of the exercises and the program was as follows:

Mrs. John G. Rexford sang. At the church services of the Baptist church yesterday, Mrs. Joan G. Rexford sang exquisitely both morning and evening. In the morning she sang "Thou Makest Me to Dwell in Safety" from "Triumph of David," by Dudley Buck. In the evening her selection was "Just For Today" by Jane Abbott.

The church was crowded at the evening service when Rev. Vaughan preached a masterly sermon on "How to Become a Christian." For his text he took these first confessional words of William McKinley, spoken in 1895: "I have not done my duty. I have sinned. I believe religion to be the best thing in the world. I give myself to the Savior who has done so much for me."

At the close of the evening service a baptismal service was held and three people were received into the fellowship of the Baptist church.

Pastors Attended Conferences.
The pastors of the Baptist, Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian churches are preparing to attend the state conventions of their respective churches and the next two weeks will be a busy time in church circles. The state convention of the Congregational church convenes in Milwaukee on tomorrow, October 1, and will be attended by Rev. Robert C. Denison, pastor of the church, and H. J. Cunningham, superintendent of the Sunday school.

The state convention of the Baptist church opened at La Crosse, Tuesday evening, October 8 and closes Thursday evening, the 10th. The program is packed with good things. Not only do many of the leading workers attend speakers from abroad, such as Dr. Anderson from Chicago, and Dr. Rowlands of Philadelphia. All Baptists should plan, if possible, to attend.

The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal churches in the Wisconsin conference will be held at Ripon, beginning Wednesday, October 9. At this time the appointment of pastors for the coming year in the conference will be made. Presiding Elder W. W. Stevens, Rev. W. A. Hall of Court street M. E. church and Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First Methodist church will attend.

The state synod of the Presbyterian church will be held at Hudson next week and Rev. J. T. Henderson will attend.

News Among the Churches

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First M. E. church will be held in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ladies are urged to be present as there is a large amount of work on hand to be done.

At 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening the members of the Mercy and Help department of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church will be in the church parlors to take charge of donations of the Deaconess' home. All who can give clothing, canned fruit, jelly, etc., are requested to bring their donation to the church. Anything to eat or wear will be acceptable.

At the close of the prayer meeting service at the First M. E. church, Thursday evening, Rev. Woodside desires to meet the members of the official board and the Ladies' Aid Society. The prayer service will close promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the social club of the Congregational church will be held in the church parlors this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the club are requested to attend as officers for the coming year will be elected and arrangements completed for this year's work.

On account of the absence of the pastor and the superintendent at the state convention at Milwaukee this week, rally day will not be observed in the Congregational church, Bible school until Sunday, October 13.

The subject of the mid-week meeting on Thursday evening at the Congregational church will be True Repentance; What Repentance Means in Our Lives, not as a doctrine, but as a real experience. Reference Mark 1:15.

The boys' choir of the Presbyterian church will meet for practice Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

The topic for the Thursday evening prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church will be "Successful Work: How accomplished." Reference Neh. 4:6.

The social meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will be held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

The book committee of the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church will meet with Miss Elizabeth Palmer, at her home, 115 Madison street this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church will meet in the church parlors, Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

The King's Daughters of the Baptist church will meet in the church parlors Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The topic for the mid-week service at the Baptist church on Thursday evening will be The Ideal Prayer Meeting. 1 Cor. 14:26. It is hoped that it will be an illustrated meeting. A business meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church will be held Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Teachers' meeting at the Baptist church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The annual meeting and banquet of the Boys' Brotherhood of the Baptist church will be held in the church parlors on Friday evening.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

When the "Brace of Partridges," which will visit our city in the fall, was about to be produced, everybody thought the audience would say, "Here is the same man coming on again," but after the first performance, although in this play the duality is not assisted by any make-up, the two policemen in the front of the house had a bet as to whether there were one or two men playing the Brace, that is, the Two Partridges—so complete was the change of expression and manner—and they waited for Mr. Reeves-Smith after the performance to settle the matter for them.

"The Original Nashville Students," the leading jubilee organization of America, is now with Rusco & Holland's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., that comes to the Myers Grand on Thursday, Oct. 2. Lovers of sweet southern melodies should go and hear "Old Folks at Home," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "My Old Kentucky Home, Good-Night," "Susannah, Don't You Cry," "Old Black Joe," "Massa's in the Cold Ground," "Keep in the Middle of the Road," "Gospel Train," "Come All Ye Sinners," and numerous others of the songs of long ago, all sung by genuine negro soloists.

Since the days of Barney McAuley we have not had a Jersey play. And why not? Probably no one has thought of it. But Mr. Walter Hodges years ago was a member of this character actor's company, and being a Jerseyman, to the manor born, Mr. Hodges has had a play written which he thinks will immortalize the pastoral corner of our great Union. He does not confine himself to the fields and orchards, however, but tells a city story located at the metropolis of Elizabeth. Is it funny? Well, "we guess yes." Fancy a New England "chapple" wooing an up-to-date widow who can give cards and spades to the bereaved ones of Hoyt's "A Milk White Flag," or "A Trip to Chinatown." The play, from the pen of Mr. Fred Marsden, one of our cleverest dramatists, entitled "Humbly," will be seen in this city in the near future.

BURR OAKS.

Burr Oaks, Sept. 30—Mrs. James Thompson, who was on the sick list is much improved in health at present writing.

Mrs. Wylie has been spending the past six weeks with her daughter in Porter, returned to her home last Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Martin will preach his farewell sermon in Fulton church next Sabbath.

The delegates to the district lodge I. O. G. T. visited the Indian Ford lodge Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Miss Jessie Brace and Miss Clara Pickering, were callers on Miss Matilda Handke, Thursday afternoon.

Frank Casey and Clarence Brown are attending the Janesville high school.

The tobacco harvest is about finished in this locality and the farmers are hurrying the corn harvest as fast as possible.

Mr. William Aird of Edgerton is visiting his sister, Mrs. L. Hubbell.

Miss Jane Pope visited at her grandfather's a couple of days this week.

John Tierney is riding a new saddle horse.

The rain has helped the late potato crop. We hear different ones telling how big their late potatoes are getting to be, and now if the weather will only continue fine to help ripen them.

Ladies' Home Journal.

The Ladies' Home Journal for October, is, perhaps, the best number of this magazine ever issued. The literary features include "How the Leopard Got His Spots," by Rudyard Kipling; "A Fifth Avenue Troubadour," by Ernest Seton-Thompson; the first instalment of "A Gentleman of the Blue Grass," by Laura Spencer Porter; the last of "Miss Alcott's Letters to her 'Laurie,'" and the closing chapters of "Alleen." "Some Things the President Does Not Do," a collection of anecdotes about Winter, the artist, and Mr. Bok's advice to a young man about to marry are important features. The regular editorial departments are supplemented by nine new ones of great interest, among which Professor Edward Howard Griggs talks on "The Education of a Child From Eleven to Eighteen," Professor Schumucker's "Seeing Things Outdoors," and Miss Withey's "Writing and Speaking Correctly," are noteworthy. The illustrations and art features are superb. Buy the Curtis Publishing Company, Palladium. One dollar a year; ten cents a number.

THE ROCK COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

A meeting of the Rock County Medical society has been called for Friday evening, October 4, at the Myers House.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock sharp. Dr. Fox will be the leader. The subject will be Hemorrhoids. The following is the program: Anatomical Venous System.....Dr. Fox
Symptoms and Causes.....Dr. Pomeroy
Discussion opened by Dr. Loomis and Cunningham.
Effect Upon Nervous System.....Dr. Sutherland
Discussion opened by Dr. Buckmaster and Farnsworth.
Best Treatment Known as Curative.....Dr. Pomeroy
Discussion opened by Drs. Judd and Fifield.

FASHION FROM PARIS.

Some Advance Hints About French Styles for Early Winter.

Here is a brief resume of what will be most worn in the Capital of Fashion this winter: The winter coats will be long and have pockets on both sides. Rough cloths will be much worn, the most popular color being tobacco brown. All garments will fit more loosely than at present, with a tendency to fullness. A great many fancy buttons and little ornaments will be used on dresses. Sleeves will be somewhat plainer and almost all the new skirts trimmed in some way or other. Dressy waists will have bolero fronts, and black velvet belts will be much in vogue. All belts are to be worn low in front, the idea being to make the waist as long as possible. On the autumn hats velvet is combined with tulle and gauzes and delicate laces. The new hats are all flat and are worn over the forehead. Havana brown, with green, dark green with black, and reseda green with black, Havana and gray, green with gray and silver, black with gold, and Havana brown with peacock shades, are some of the new colors and combinations.—The October Ladies' Home Journal.

CRITICAL YEAR OF MARRIED LIFE

Not the First Year, But the Third, and the Reason Why.

"Some folks have a way of declaring that the first year of married life is the most trying," writes Edward Bok in the Ladies' Home Journal. "But where one gets a close knowledge of several families the conviction is brought home that the most trying period lies beyond the first year. I should fix it rather at the third year, when the pretty trosses are showing wear and needs replenishing; when the wedding presents have lost their lustre, and this thing has worn out and that thing has to be replaced; when a little family is growing up and doctors' bills are introduced into the family reckoning. That is the trying period when interests are apt to become very close. Likewise calculations. Then it is that the saving of the comparatively care free and less expensive first year of married life comes in handy, or is sadly missed if the income was then lived up to in unnecessary buying and foolish entertaining. A great deal of happiness in this world is wrecked by debt, and generally the debt could have been avoided if a little more care and common sense had been exercised."

Tired Out

And she does not understand why. Her work used to seem so easy. You could tell her whereabouts as she worked by the snatches of song which now and again overflowed her happy lips. And now she can hardly keep up. Her head aches, her back hurts, and she feels entirely worn out.

What is the matter? The probability is that the stomach is disordered, the liver is not performing its whole duty. Poisons are accumulating in the blood, and unless these are removed, and the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition cured and strengthened, there is liable to be a serious illness. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for prompt help and perfect cure for diseases of the stomach and blood. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and brings back the happy days of health, when life is all song and sunshine.

"I suffered ten months from a complicated case of liver complaint, constipation, indigestion, depression of monthly function, and kidney disease," writes Miss Lulu M. Brittle, of Ivor, Va. "I also suffered excruciating pain in my back and head. I am glad to say that six bottles of Golden Medical Discovery, three of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and two bottles of 'Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla' cured me entirely. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all sufferers."

DIFFERENT MEANS TO CATCH THE RAT

This is not a joke. On the contrary it is a serious and strictly business affair. Rats are abundant and troublesome in Scandinavia to a degree that has led to the formation in Copenhagen of the "Committee for the Rational Extirpation of Rats in Denmark," and the efforts of this organization bore fruit this summer in an international exhibition of rat traps which was held in the Summer Tivoli, a well known public resort in Copenhagen, from August 11 to August 26. The Ironmonger, of London, says it was a very popular show and apparently a financial success.

The principal object of the exhibition was to bring before the people the many different means by which rats may be caught and destroyed. The committee sent invitations to all the known makers of traps in Denmark and to nearly 100 foreign manufacturers. The response obtained from foreign countries was very slight, but this is ascribed to the fact that the object was not clearly understood by most of those who were approached. American, German and French makers were fairly well represented, but only two British firms took any part in the show.

This principle of the State paying premiums for killed rats was adopted in Sweden on March 1 of this year, as a result of which in the five months ending July 31, 103,000 rats have been destroyed in Stockholm, and 10,000 in the town of Malmo. The extent of the rat nuisance is shown by the fact that in the small Danish town of Maribo 14,000 rats were killed in eighteen months, which is equal to five rats for every inhabitant. The largest amount of money received in premiums was taken by two men, who, in the course of two months, killed 5,000 rats at a place where town refuse was disposed of. They there built an enclosure of old doors and panels, in one corner of which they fixed a sack with the mouth opening into the enclosure, at another corner a hole was made for the rats to enter, and in the enclosure bones were thrown as a bait. Every day from 200 to 300 rats entered the enclosure. The hole by which they had entered was then stopped up, and the men frightened the rats into the sack, where they were killed with sticks. The total earnings of the two men in the way of premiums amounted to $140.

In addition to traps, a number of rat killing animals were shown, including many dogs, such as red, rough haired Irish terriers, black and tan terriers, and red badger dogs. The Copenhagen Zoological Gardens sent an exhibition of owls, cats and martens. A couple of machines for blowing carbolic acid, sulphuric acid and similar materials into rat holes and a crematorium for burning rats were also shown. All the traps of foreign manufacture were sold by lottery in order to avoid the necessity of returning them. The lots were 6.5 cents each.

Oriental Rugs

The real value of Oriental Rugs is shown by the length of time they wear. You can save much money by buying them here. Large city stores do not pretend to mark them at such small profits. Our assortment is very large and the rugs come from New York's leading importers. Wise people are buying Oriental Rugs at home now, they are beginning to realize that it costs much to run a city store and the exorbitant prices put on Oriental Rugs and other novelties go a good ways toward paying big rents, etc.

FIFTY GEMS FOR DAIRYMEN.

The following rules concerning the production and care of milk is published in the annual report of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry; it is full of pithy truths that will repay those who carefully study them:

The Owner and His Helpers
Read current dairy literature and keep posted on new ideas.
Observe and enforce the utmost cleanliness about the cattle, their attendants, the stable, the dairy, and all utensils.

A person suffering from any disease, or who has been exposed to any contagious disease, must remain away from the cows and the milk.

Keep dairy cattle in a room or building by themselves. It is preferable to have no cellar below and no storage loft above.

Stables should be well ventilated, lighted and drained; should have tight floors and walls and be plainly constructed.

Never use musty or dirty litter. Allow no strongly smelling material in the stable for any length of time. Store the manure under cover outside the cow stable and remove it to a distance as often as practicable.

Whitewash the stable once or twice a year. Use land plaster in the manure gutters daily.

Use no dry, musty feed, just previous to milking; if fodder is dusty sprinkle it before it is fed.

Do not change the feed suddenly. Feed liberally, and use only fresh, palatable feed stuffs; in no case should decomposed or mouldy material be used.

Provide water in abundance, easy of access and always pure; fresh, but not too cold.

Salt should always be accessible. Do not allow any strong flavored food, like garlic, cabbage and turnips to be eaten, except immediately after milking.

Clean the entire body of the cow daily. If hair in the region of the udder is not easily kept clean, it should be clipped.

Do not use the milk within twenty days of calving, nor within three to five days afterward.

The milker should be clean in all respects; he should not use tobacco; he should wash and dry his hands just before milking.

Keep the stable and dairy room in good condition, and then insist that the dairy, factory or place where the milk goes be kept equally well.

Have the herd examined at least twice a year by a skilled veterinarian.

Promptly remove from the herd any animal suspected of being in bad health and reject her milk. Never add an animal to the herd until certain it is free from disease, especially tuberculosis.

Do not move cows faster than a comfortable walk while on the way to place of feeding or milking.

Never allow the cows to be excited by hard driving, abuse, loud talking or unnecessary disturbance; do not expose them to cold or storm.

Keep the night milk under shelter so that rain cannot get into the cans. In warm weather hold it in a tank of fresh water.

Never mix fresh milk with that which has been cooled.

Do not allow the milk to freeze. Under no circumstances should anything be added to milk to prevent its souring. Cleanliness and cold are the only preventives needed.

Clean and thoroughly air the stable before milking. In hot weather sprinkle the floor.

The milker should wear a clean outer garment to be used only when milking, and kept in a clean place a other times.

Brush the udder and surrounding parts just before milking and wipe them with a clean damp sponge or cloth.

Milk quietly, quickly, cleanly and thoroughly. Cows do not like unnecessary noise or delay. Commence milking at exactly the same hour every morning and evening, and milk the cows in the same order.

Throw away (but not on the floor, better in the gutter) the first few streams from each teat; this milk is very watery and of little value, but it may injury the rest.

If in any milking a part of the milk is bloody, or stringy or unnatural in appearance the whole mess should be rejected.

Milk with dry hands; never allow the hands to come in contact with the milk.

Do not allow dogs, cats or loafers to be around at milking time.

If any accident occurs by which a full or partly full of milk becomes dirty, do not try to remedy this by straining, but reject all this milk and rinse the pail.

Weigh and record the milk given by each cow, and take a sample morning and night, at least once a week, for testing by the fat test.

Remove the milk of every cow at once from the stable to a clean, dry room, where the air is pure and sweet. Do not allow cans to remain in stable while they are being filled.

Strain the milk through a metal gauze and a flannel cloth or layer of cotton as soon as it is drawn.

Aerate and cool the milk as soon as strained. If an apparatus for ailing and cooling at the same time is not at hand, the milk should be ailed first. This must be done in pure air, and it should then be cooled to 45 degrees; if the milk is for shipment, or to 60 degrees, if for home use or delivery to a factory.

Never close a can containing warm milk which has not been aerated.

If cover is left off the can, a piece of cloth or mosquito netting should be used to keep out the insects.

If milk is tired, it should be held in tanks of fresh, cold water, (renewed daily) in a clean, dry, cold room. Unless it is desired to remove cream, it should be stirred with a tin stirrer often enough to prevent forming a thick cream layer.

All milk should be in good condition when delivered. This may make it necessary to deliver twice a day during the hottest weather.

When cans are hauled far, they should be full, and hauled in a spring wagon.

In hot weather cover the cans, when moved in a wagon, with a clean wet blanket or canvas.

Milk utensils for farm use should be made of metal and have all joints smoothly soldered. Never allow them to become rough or rusty inside.

Do not haul waste products back to the farm in the same cans used for delivering milk. When this is unavoidable, insist that the skim milk or whey tank be kept clean.

Cans for the return of skim milk or whey should be emptied and cleaned as soon as they arrive at the farm.

Clean all dairy utensils by first thoroughly rinsing them in warm water; then clean inside and out with a brush and hot water, in which a cleaning material is dissolved; then rinse and lastly sterilize by boiling water or steam. Use pure water only.

After cleaning, keep utensils, inverted, in pure air and sun, if possible, until wanted for use.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT?

To Keep Healthy and Strong?
A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best, in spite of the claims made by vegetarians and food cranks generally.

As compared with grains and vegetables meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remussen on this subject says: Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat plenty of meat. If the digestion is too feeble at first, it may be easily strengthened by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets, taken after dinner, will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three or four hours, while the malt diastase also contained in Stuart's Tablets cause the perfect digestion of starchy foods, like potatoes, bread, etc., and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase so necessary to perfect digestion, and any form of indigestion and stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach will be overcome by their daily use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its complete digestion by the systematic use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin and diastase, which actually perform the work of digestion and give the abused stomach a chance to rest and to furnish the body and brain with the necessary nutriment. Cheap cathartic medicines masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for relief or cure of indigestion, because they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the indigestion is to make daily use at meal time of a safe preparation which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles, and all this can truly be said of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

All druggists throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain sell them at the uniform price of fifty cents for full treatment.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Cloudy, probably showers; warmer tonight and Tuesday.

OPEN AND ABOVE BOARD.

The "organs" of the state, with the echo of a few disgruntled newspapers, are making a great howl about the mission and methods of the Republican League.

They seem to believe, and attempt to inspire the same belief in others, that great secrecy and underhanded methods are used and that the sole object of the organization is to defeat the renomination of Governor La Follette.

The declaration of principles set forth by the league is ignored or treated as a burlesque. They refuse to recognize the fact that these principles express the sentiment of a majority of the legislative branch of government, and carry the same weight they would had they been engrossed at the state capitol, while that body was in session.

The republican league is neither a myth, nor the offspring of an idle dream. Its mission is to save the republican party from destruction, and the state from populism and the ethical degeneracy.

The methods employed are honorable and will be effective. Every county in the state will be thoroughly organized, and every voter of whatever creed, will have an opportunity to be advised as to conditions and emergencies.

The organizers and supporters of the league have confidence in the conservative, hard common sense of Wisconsin voters, and realizing that the time demanded concerted action, the organization was formed, and is now submitted for popular approval.

The league is approachable, and it is the only republican organization in the state that is. It has nothing to conceal in either mission or method. It is not organized or conducted in the interests of office seekers or office holders. It will pay out without a doodle book or corruption fund, and it will live to accomplish its mission, and perpetuate the life of the republican party.

Both hired and voluntary emissaries will be employed, and its work will be thorough and energetic. Call it a machine if you like, it will have cog wheels in every community, that will receive an impetus by contact with the shaft known as loyal republicanism, working for the best interests of a party that is entitled to loyal support.

The league is not antagonistic to men, but it seeks to save the party from measures that are theoretical and dangerous.

For more detailed particulars call at the well advertised eleventh floor of the Herman building. The office boy will receive you courteously, and the highest official will deign to see you.

The Republican League is not autocratic. It belongs to the people, and believes in the people. It has no schemes to advance or hobbies to promote. Just a plain republican organization with wide open door and a friendly greeting.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

The old question of a protective tariff is again up for discussion, and demands are already being made that the next congress be turned loose to tinker with the tariff.

The late President McKinley's last public utterances, are construed by some to mean that he was ready to abandon the issue that had contributed to his fame, or at least to modify his radical views. Congressman Babcock is being quoted freely as in favor of letting down the bars, and free traders, as well as free trade journals, are clamoring for tariff reform.

While it is perfectly natural that the "outs" should want to get in, and it is just as natural that any sort of a pretext for an issue is in active demand, it is a well conceded fact that the nation was never so prosperous as today, and to unprejudiced minds, this era of prosperity owes its existence and continuance to wise protective tariff laws.

The memory of any man who is not feeble minded or so warped by prejudice that he is cross-eyed, is able to recall the situation that confronted the country four years ago.

Our industries were simply paralyzed, the land was flooded with foreign goods of inferior make, and a vast army of American laborers were idle.

their unreasonable clamor for a change; the thought of it is too ridiculous for serious consideration. This thought never annoyed the great mind of the late lamented president, and will not disturb the proceedings of a level headed congress. The progress of the nation has been so rapid during the last four years so many new and untried elements have entered into its healthy life, so many new conditions confront the administration, that no time will be wasted in thrashing over old ground, that never yielded anything but discord and disaster.

The question is no longer what shall be done to keep our people busy, that question has been solved, not only to the satisfaction of both labor and capital, but to the mutual improvement of both. The commercial question that confronts the nation today is, where can we find the most available market for our rapidly increasing surplus?

This was the thought that filled the mind of the late president, and prompted his expression at Buffalo. He realized that with our progress and our prosperity, must be cultivated the most friendly trade relations, and that the only safe solution to the great problem was the reciprocity which he recommended. This is not free trade or tariff reform, but it means American protection on a fair and equitable basis, to comply with national growth and development.

President Roosevelt and his advisors will not be misled, for they are free from the taint of free trade heresy. American labor, as well as capital, will be carefully considered in readjusting trade conditions, and the prosperity of the country will not be disturbed by erratic legislation.

MAKE FOREIGN LUXURIES PAY.

Silk is certainly a luxury, and even the most rabid free trader or tariff reformer cannot complain of the duties on such goods. If the tariff duties are right in any direction, they are assuredly right in the matter of such luxuries as silks, jewelry, precious stones, wines, &c. Those duties do not impose any hardships on the masses of the consumers, even by the most rigid construction of those who oppose the tariff principle. As a matter of fact, however, the goods that are consumed by the masses of the workers here are made in this country, and their production gives employment to the very people who consume them. If goods that are consumed by the masses of the people were admitted in close competition with our own products, work would become scarcer here and wages less. Protection of the most widely consumed products of this country is the right principle of protection. Luxuries can afford to pay heavy duties, and necessities that are taxed—if it be called a tax—at the ports of entry serve to guarantee the workers here steady employment. The prices of most articles of general consumption are low enough in all reason, and it is well to pay even a little more for home goods than a little less for foreign made goods.

What is needed here in this country is work and wages, and they can only be assured by keeping the mills at work, and the foreign made goods out to a certain extent. As to silks and other luxuries, let them be taxed to the limit.—Wilmington (Del.) "News."

The collapse of Czolgosz, the assassin, is not surprising. His death will be a relief to the nation, and the feeling of intense hatred that is so pronounced in all parts of the country, should be an object lesson, that should make a lasting impression upon both the teachers and disciples of anarchy.

There's a difference between a wart and a tumor, you can wear a wart for a lifetime without inconvenience, but a tumor is dangerous. A "Stalwart" may not always be handsome, but he is not a menace to the body politic.

All honor to the American navy. It never lost a battle and its fair name will remain untarnished, unless blighted by the land engagement now going on in Washington. Battle ships need plenty of sea room, and their commanders appear to better advantage on the bridge, than in the court room, where the issue is too insignificant to attract public attention.

President Roosevelt is not disappointing his friends, and his critics have but little to offer in the way of censure. He is the right man in the right place.

The time limit on the city bond issue will expire on Oct. 1st. The investment is a good one and should be appreciated by Janesville people.

The Lodi man who bought the Masonic temple has not yet taken possession. He is short several degrees.

PRESS COMMENT.

Madison Democrat: Another prolonged legislative session is a foregone conclusion since the return of Senator McGillivray is probable.

Jefferson County Union: It took twenty-eight minutes to find Czolgosz guilty of murder in the first degree. Well, what did the jury do the other twenty-seven minutes?

Madison Democrat: The speech of President McKinley at Buffalo for reciprocity and expansion of trade, and his remark "that the day of exclusiveness is past," does not much disagree with Mr. Babcock's views.

Marquette Eagle: The scheme "to get together" is about as watery as anything that has been floated for some time. The half-breeds must be getting anxious.

Racine Journal: The men who have belittled themselves denying sympathy for the nation's grief, and expressing pleasure at the crime, should be boycotted by every honest American citizen.

Milwaukee Journal: With the opening of the colleges for the fall term it would be well for the students to remember that cane rushes and kindred pastimes are not calculated to extract extra dollars from hard working farmer fathers.

Marquette Eagle: With the present tariff, modified by reciprocity treaties, in accordance with William McKinley's and James G. Blaine's plans, this country has a future of continued prosperity before it, a grander area for its commerce, and a stable home market as well.

Marquette Star: The wisdom of the republican party in naming its next best man for vice-president has been exemplified as has also the patriotism of that next best man who did not want to be vice-president, but yielded because his party demanded him.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Probably the worst punishment which could have been inflicted on the anarchist leaders, Emma Goldman and Herr Most, would be to compel them to live together with no other company and practice their theories of individual freedom on each other.

Green Bay Gazette: The administration press does not succeed in driving Senator Spooner from the face of the earth and until such a feat is accomplished the people of Wisconsin can expect to hear considerable rattling around in the state. The opposition of the present state administration to our senior senator is one of its weak points.

Appleton Post: Judging from the series of well written essays which he is addressing to Senator John M. Whitehead, regarding that gentleman's connections with the new Republican League, we conclude that our "great and good friend, the editor of the Oshkosh Northwestern, aspires to be the Junius of Wisconsin journalism. But wherefore should he latterly put 'em in big type and in double column? The Post for one, was willing to admit that he was cutting a wide enough swath under the old arrangement.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: There will be very general satisfaction over the rapid roadway made in the trial of the assassin Czolgosz. He was given every opportunity before the law, was provided with the ablest counsel that could be had, and was afforded everything in fact, that he could reasonably expect except an opportunity to pose as a martyr. His protection from the mobs which would have torn him limb from limb, his trial, his condemnation, and at last, his punishment, are in themselves lessons to anarchists and exemplifications of the majesty and the strength of the law.

The Railroad Strike in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Trains on the South Side elevated railroad are running at brief intervals, but the bell-cords and gates are operated by new men. The settlement confidently predicted by Superintendent Morrison failed to materialize and only a few of the men who went on strike have returned to work. Although the officials of the company profess to believe the trouble is over, the men hold decidedly opposite opinions and assert that the strike is only beginning.

A marriage license was issued today to Hans Hawkinson of Porter and Bertha Larson of Union.

The Precipitating Brokers.

A procrastinating broker met a rich, but simple capitalist, who was going down to Wall street with a bag of gold. "Tomorrow," he said to himself. "I will unload some Pacific Mail on the Snoozer." But, lo! when the morning came, he found that the capitalist had gone short on Union Pacific the night before and lost his pilot Moral.—Never put off till tomorrow the man you can do today.—Lanigan's Fables.

The Good Samaritan.

A certain man went from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves, who beat him and stripped him and left him for dead. A good Samaritan seeing this, clapped spurs to his ass and galloped away, lest he should be sent to the house of detention as a witness while the robbers were released on bail. Moral.—The perceiver is worse than the thief.—Lanigan's Fables.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY OF A FARM TEAM

J. Chubbuck, a La Prairie Farmer, Had a Narrow Escape from Being Crushed to Death.

J. Chubbuck, who resides on the Reeder farm in the town of La Prairie was the victim of a serious runaway shortly before one o'clock today. He was driving a pair of heavy horses hitched to a lumber wagon with a double box on it. He had been on the west side of the river on business and was coming back to the east side over the Court street bridge. Just as he reached the east side the clevis on the left hand side broke, allowing the white-tree to drop down onto the horses' heels. This caused the horse to jump and jerk the neck-yoke from off the end of the pole allowing it to drop down and drag along the ground.

The horses, now thoroughly frightened, started on a run. Chubbuck, up on his perch on the double wagon box was unable to hold them and turned them into the alleyway that runs parallel with Main street at the corner of Nelson's livery barn. When they made the turn the front wheel struck against the corner of the heavy stone curbing along the north side of the street. The concussion threw Chubbuck off the high seat against the side of Nelson's livery barn and he bounded back against the wagon. As he fell in order to keep himself from being run over he grabbed the spokes of the front wheel and held on until the horses had run almost to the rear of Bostwick & Sons' store when he let go and rolled out of the way.

The horses with the pole plowing in to the ground kept on up the alleyway until directly in the rear of the Lion shoe store. Here the front wheel of the wagon dropped down into a window area and was brought to a sudden stop. The horses now freed from the wagon kept on up the alley and fell on the brick crossing at the end of the alley at Milwaukee street and were stopped.

Those who saw the runaway say Chubbuck was fortunate to escape with his life. He was in position all the time from the time he was thrown off the seat and caught the wheel up to the time he let go to have his brains knocked against some of the buildings or telephone poles along the alley. As it was his race was badly skinned and he had numerous bruises about the body. The team was cut up some but not seriously. The wagon had one front wheel smashed and the frame was broken some what. The injuries were bad enough but not near as bad as were anticipated.

Mr. Chubbuck also had the misfortune to lose during the time he was being dragged along the ground a pocket book containing in the neighborhood of seventy dollars.

FRED BAKER HOLDS AMATEUR RECORD

Made Nine Holes on the Mississippi Club Links in 38, and the Eighteen Holes in 82.

F. J. Baker now holds the amateur record for nine holes on the Mississippi course and also tied the best record for eighteen holes. In playing a match game for position on the team he made the first round in 38 or three below "Bog" and the second round in 44 or a score of 82 for the eighteen holes.

The 38 score is very remarkable and has never been beaten by a professional although it was tied by Robert Foulis when employed by the club a year ago this summer. The present course is really harder than it was when Foulis made the score on account of changes in the holes and a large bunker going to No. 7 and one guarding to No. 2 green. The score of 82 equals that made by Albert Schaller in his match with "Gail" Thompson during the recent Oconowoc-Janesville match. The course at present is in fine shape as it has been at any time during the season. The finals for the Valentine medal between the Misses Katherine and Helen Fifield will be played off tomorrow afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Social club of the Congregational church will be held this evening at the church parlors at 7:30 o'clock. Officers for the coming year will be elected, and other arrangements made.

John Feltley, an employee of the Rock County Telephone company, had the misfortune to fall from a tree Saturday afternoon, and break the small bone in the left ankle. He was also considerably bruised about the face and head. Dr. Joe Whiting was called and attended to his wants.

An interesting meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The subject, "Wishing and Having," was handled in an interesting manner. The music was furnished by the male quartet, and a pleasant afternoon was spent by all in attendance.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will hold their regular monthly meeting Tuesday in the association parlors. A full attendance is desired as plans for the ensuing year will be discussed.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Anna M. Arndt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Arndt, of the town of La Prairie, and Fred Terwilliger of the town of Rock. The marriage ceremony will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Thursday evening, October 10, at 8 o'clock.

Guy Hastings, captain of the White-water High school football team had his ribs fractured Saturday in the game with Evansville. Last year he had several ribs broken in a game and Saturday had the misfortune to get into a hot scrimmage and get hurt again. He started for home Saturday night, but was in such pain that he had to stop in this city.

A number of the members of W. H. Sargent post G. A. R. went out Saturday afternoon to District No. 5 of the town of Janesville and took part in the flag raising ceremonies. A large number of people were in attendance and took part in the program, which was exceedingly interesting. Miss Mabel Holloway is in charge of the school and delivered the opening address. The program was closed by an address by Rev. W. A. Hall.

The Janesville Art League are to have one of their enjoyable Kodak parties with Mrs. Burr at her up-river home on Thursday of this week. The boat will leave promptly at 10 o'clock. A picnic dinner will be served at noon and ladies are requested to bring their own plate, cup, silver and napkin. If the weather should prove stormy it will be postponed until Saturday. Those wishing further particulars communicate with Mrs. Tanager or Mrs. Helms.

George Henry Thormann, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Thormann died last evening at the home of his parents, 128 Madison street. The little one was eight months and three-days old and the cause of his death was inflammation of the bowels. The remains will be taken to Plattville, Wis., for interment tomorrow morning.

Regular meeting of the common council this evening.

MOURN DEATH OF MRS. WHITTLESEY

One of the Pioneer Residents of This City Died at the Home of Her Daughter in La Grange, Ill.

A telegram received by Miss Chittenden announces the sad news of the death of Mrs. E. G. Whittlesey, one of the pioneer residents of this city, which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. J. Carpenter, at La Grange, Ill., Saturday night. Deceased was eighty-eight years of age on the first of last August, and had been in feeble health for several years. She was well known in this city, although she left here in 1870, to make her home in Chicago.

Mrs. Whittlesey's husband, who preceded her into the life eternal several years ago, was Rev. John S. Whittlesey, at one time a prominent pastor of New Britain, Conn. He was sent from there as a home missionary to Iowa, where he labored for many years, being the organizer of the church in Durant. During the civil war he served as chaplain of a Iowa regiment. While Mrs. Whittlesey resided in this city she was prominently connected with the Congregational church.

The funeral services were held at La Grange this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the remains will be brought to this city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and taken directly to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. The family pastor will accompany the funeral party from La Grange. Mrs. Whittlesey leaves only one daughter, Mrs. M. J. Carpenter, with which she had made her home.

Funeral of Mrs. G. C. Fritz
The funeral of the late Mrs. G. C. Fritz was held this morning at 9:30 o'clock from her late home on North Franklin street. Rev. W. A. Hall of the Court street Methodist church conducted the services which were attended by numerous relatives and friends of the deceased. The floral offerings were especially handsome and numerous. The Concordia society of which the bereaved husband is a member attended in a body and furnished the singing for the services. The interment was at Monroe, the body going over the St. Paul road at 10:40 o'clock. The pall bearers were Carl Brockhaus, Carl Pabst, John Zamzow, Gus Baumann, Ed Klenow and M. Memmerhirt.

Little Florence Belding Dead
Little Florence Belding, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Belding was gathered into the fold of the Good Shepherd this morning after an illness of one week's duration. Little Florence was thirteen months old and was an unusually bright child. The joy of the home centered in her life and by her death the hearts of the devoted mother and sister have been made desolate. Funeral services will be held from the home, corner of South Academy and Dodge streets tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. W. W. Woodside, officiating. The interment will take place in the cemetery at Shoopers.

John Wesley Smith Dead

John Wesley Smith, for many years a resident of this city, and well known by the older residents, died at his home in Richland Center last Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock and was laid in the final resting place in the Richland Center cemetery yesterday afternoon. Deceased was about seventy years of age and years ago he was engaged in the fanning mill business in this city. Previous to that time, he resided near Afton. Mr. Smith was a veteran in the civil war and on his return from the southern battlefields he moved his family to Richland Center, where he has made his home ever since. Two years ago last June he suffered a severe stroke or paralysis from which he never recovered. Since that time he had been an invalid until death released him from his suffering. He leaves a widow who is the only sister of M. H. Gibbs of this city, three daughters and three sons.

TRADES COUNCIL ATTENDED CHURCH

About 200 Labor Union Men Marched in a Body to St. Mary's Yesterday—Address by Father Goebel.

About two hundred members of the Trades' Council attended divine service at St. Mary's church yesterday morning out of compliment to Rev. Father W. A. Goebel and as a sign of their appreciation of the many kindnesses which the pastor of St. Mary's church has shown the labor unions. Within a few Sundays a similar visit is to be paid to the Congregational church, the members of the Trades Council having decided that in this way they would like to show their gratitude to Rev. Father Goebel and Rev. Robert C. Denison, both of whom have spoken for the organized laboring men on several occasions. Both pastors appreciate deeply the courtesy shown by such an action on the part of the Trades Council.

The members of the council marched in a body to St. Mary's church yesterday morning and occupied the entire front half of the church. They participated heartily in the service and enjoyed especially the excellent singing of Wiegand's mass by the large chorus choir.

At the close of the service Father Goebel spoke especially to the small army of working men before him. He read the parable from the Bible concerning the husbandman who hired laborers to go into his vineyard, promising to pay them what was just. Then he spoke of the great boon by which the Savior bestowed on mankind by elevating and dignifying labor. Previous to his coming the Romans, who ruled the world, had branded labor with the stigma of disgrace and relegated it to their slaves. When Christ came into the world He dignified and sanctified labor, ennobling it by coming to a home whose environments were those of a mechanic.

chanic. If the profession of an army officer could be dignified by a George Washington, if the profession of a jurist could be elevated by a Goney or a Charles O'Connor, if the profession of a statesman could be ennobled by a Burke, what shall be said of the dignity to which labor has been raised by the redeemer of the world?

In closing his eloquent address Father Goebel complimented the Trades Council on fostering the idea of going to church in a body and hoped that some of the remarks which he made would encourage them to continue in their labors.

RAISE PRICE ON MILK

Farmers Who Sell Milk for City Delivery Will Charge Three Cents Per Quart on October 1.

On October 1st the retail milk dealers will pay three cents a quart for all milk purchased by them from the farmers who supply them with milk. The farmers held a meeting Saturday evening and formed the Milk Producers' association for the purpose of mutual protection. The following officers were elected: G. H. Crane, president; A. L. Hayner, secretary and Latt Swan, treasurer.

They decided to raise the price of milk to three cents a quart to go into effect on October 1. There will now be a corresponding rise in the price on the part of the retailers and the consumer will be the one to feel the effects of the jump.

The Milk Producers' association is composed of all the farmers in this vicinity who supply local dealers.

Poultry Notes

In the future of poultry breeding operations by far the best results will be obtained by those who as studiously what and how to feed as they do in mating their fowls.

Admitting that we must breed with expert intelligence and with judgment, almost amounting to genius of a high order, we must also, in order to develop fowls to their full limit, know how to feed them from an early period. In fact, from the time they are hatched, so that their development may in detail show that breeding and feeding are working together in perfect accord.

The well-bred fowl, when properly fed, will always respond readily to good management and intelligent feeding.

The mongrel breeds, that is a mixed breed of Plymouth Rocks, Leghorns, Dominiques and Bantams, have not the power to do so to a similar degree.

Their power for expansive response of growth is limited by reason of their inherited inferiority.

Feed can put them in better condition but the stock must come under the revivifying influences of pure blood before they bring satisfactory returns.

So one can readily see that the beneficial effects of breeding and feeding along on these lines which practical experience approves, cannot be too deeply impressed upon poultry raisers.

Live stock to be raised (referring to hogs and cattle) successfully must be bred and developed along well defined lines and managed with due regard to business principles. It is not far wide of the facts, to say that scrub cattle and "razorback" hogs are about the only links which remain with us to remind one of primitive methods of life stock raising in a great agricultural country.

In beef and pork raising this country surpasses any other nation for a large amount of prime beef and pork, and in no country have breeders more clearly demonstrated the value of pure bred stock in so short a period as has been done in this. Notice, for instance the number of public auctions held in our country last fall and winter and what were they held for, simply to rid their farms of scrub stock and build up good thorough bred herds and in the auctions we attended when the man intended to remain on the farm, one could readily see the blooded animals were retained for breeding purposes and in case they were sold, they always sold on the block for double the amount that the culls called for.

Then if this rule applies to live stock, does it not apply to poultry? Yet farmers who depend upon the poultry yard to buy groceries for the table—and otherwise deem themselves well informed on stock raising, reason that the hen can hustle for her living and any old "kind of breed" will do.

Philomathian Club Picnic

The members of the Philomathian study club enjoyed a picnic at the home of Mrs. A. C. Thorpe, on South Main street, Saturday afternoon, and while it is a trifle late in the season for picnics there certainly has been no more enjoyable one this summer than the merry party of Saturday. The picnic was held as a preliminary to the season's work of the class and was purely of a social nature. The afternoon was spent happily on the lawn at Mrs. Thorpe's home and toward the close of the perfect day the tables for the picnic supper were spread out of doors. The supper was a very elegant one and the ladies partook of the delicious viands with a relish which was all the keener for the pleasant hours of sociability preceding the supper.

The ladies of the class enjoyed the outing thoroughly. They will hold their first meeting for study with Mrs. H. D. Murdoch on Saturday, October 12.

Seniors Won the Game

The Seniors won the football game with the Juniors Saturday afternoon by a score of 17 to 5. The game was the first of the series for the Denison cup and was hotly contested by both classes. Although early in the season the boys showed that they are fast rounding into form and will be able to put up a hard fight. The seniors are the heavier team and have had considerable more experience in handling the "pigskin," but were given a hot tussle by the Juniors. Ryan, Sasey, Hutchinson and Roberts of the Seniors and Galbraith, Daly and Wilbur of the Juniors put up the strongest game. The kicking done by Bump of the Seniors is seldom excelled by any one.

CUBA DECIDES ON ELECTIONS.

Congressmen Will Be Chosen Dec. 15, and President Jan. 1.

Havana, Sept. 30.—At a conference between Governor General Wood and the President and Secretary of the Constitutional Convention in the matter of objectionable points in the constitution, it was agreed that the document be so amended as to provide for only two elections, to wit, one on December 15 for Congressmen and one on New Year's Day for President and Senators.

The changes in the Cuban tariff comprise only three points. The tariff on the general schedule of materials for railway equipment and that of machinery for the manufacture of sugar and brandy is reduced to one-half of the present rate for a year.

The special concession heretofore made to Porto Rican coffee, allowing its importation into Cuba at a rebate of $3.40 per 100 kilos, is repealed and the general rate on all coffees of $12.15 per 100 kilos is restored.

There are no other changes made, and it is officially stated that none is contemplated during the remaining period of American occupation.

MOLINEUX GETS NEW TRIAL.

Court of Appeals Believed to Have Decided on a Reversal.

Albany, Sept. 30.—It is learned on excellent authority here that the Court of Appeals has decided to grant a new trial to Roland B. Molineux of New York, recently convicted in New York of the murder of Mrs. Kate Adams.

The Court of Appeals will meet Tuesday and it is believed that the decision will be among the first announced. It will be a reversal of the decision of the lower court. Molineux will be sent back to New York for another trial.

It is stated that after the Court of Appeals met in June that body was unanimous upon informal ballot for the reversal of the verdict of guilty in the case. Justice Werner of Rochester was designated to write the opinion. This he did, sending it to the other justices of the Court of Appeals. It is further stated that after reading the opinion, as written by the justice, three of the justices rendered a dissenting opinion, but this did not change the final result of the vote.

King Off to Balmoral.

London, Sept. 30.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra have started for Balmoral. Euston station was profusely decorated for the departure of the king and queen, and there were large crowds of spectators awaiting their approach, as well as in Pall Mall, to see the carriage drive off. This is their first visit to Scotland since the opening of their reign. No date has been arranged for their journey to Ireland, but it will probably be one of the events of the coronation year. The work of refurbishing and decorating Buckingham palace is well advanced, and the king will be in residence there when parliament assembles in January.

Electric Road of 680 Miles.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 30.—An electric railroad, 680 miles long connecting Toledo, St. Louis and Chicago, is in prospect. One hundred and sixty-five miles are constructed or in course of construction and it has been stated by those who should be in a position to know that the system will be in operation within the next eighteen months. The enterprise had its birth in Goshen, Ind., and back of it are several companies. Connection between Goshen and Chicago will be by way of South Bend and Michigan City. The line between Goshen and South Bend is now in operation.

Fatal Fight Over McKinley.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Augustus Miller was shot in the stomach and probably mortally wounded by John Walton. Walton had reported several employees of the Lawrence Cement company at Rosendale to the management of the company for making alleged derogatory remarks about President McKinley after his assassination and they were discharged. Miller being of the number. Miller and his wife assaulted Walton last night and the latter, who had been warned of threats made against him, shot Miller while defending himself.

Wireless Messages at Sea.

Queens town, Sept. 30.—The steamer Lucania, which sailed from New York on Sept. 21 for Liverpool and arrived here at 2:57 p. m., reports having communicated for two hours with the steamer Campana in midocean by means of the wireless telegraphy. The shortest distance in which communication was effected was thirty-three miles and the longest sixty-five miles.

Mother Accuses Son.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—Robert Della was arrested on the charge of attempting to murder his mother. She charges that he once tried to shoot her and that on two other occasions he gave her poison in her coffee. The motive of the crime is said to be that he wanted to obtain $250 pension.

Unionists Win Victory.

London, Sept. 30.—In the Lanarkshire election the Unionist candidate has been returned for the first time in the history of the constituency. The government is certainly still able to profit by the war feeling in spite of the not encouraging situation in South Africa.

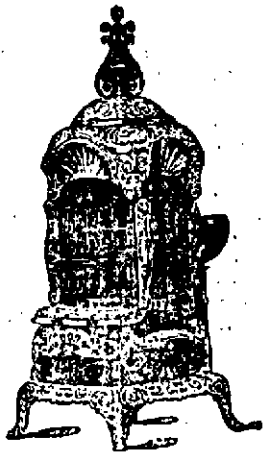

President to Go to Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 30.—President Hadley of Yale university says that the date on which President Roosevelt will attend the Yale bicentennial will be Wednesday, Oct. 23, the last day of the celebration.

TRY TO BLOW UP MCKINLEY TOMB

or the attack on the guard was or what the man behind the tree had in his package, the theory advanced is that it was an attempt to blow up the vault in which the President's body lies. Military men agree that it looks like that. Captain Biddle, commanding, after a vain search of the cemetery, has put extra guards on duty and the entire company of seventy-five is ready to turn out at any alarm. It is thought by some that the intruders may have been men who broke jail early in the day, but the authorities say the theory is hardly tenable, as a guarded cemetery would be the last place in which fugitives from justice would be likely to seek refuge.

Her Pleasure Book.

One happy suggestion has been made by a member of the "Don't-Worry" band. She suggests keeping what she calls a "Pleasure Book." She courageously maintains that even in the most overburdened and sorrowful life it is possible to find in each day at least one incident or one circumstance that ought to be a source of passing pleasure, if not of something worth calling happiness.

A Sense of Security.

"Doesn't it worry you to have your husband spend so much time in the corner store talking politics?" "No," said the woman with the weary look in her eyes. "I know that when he is talking politics he's letting anybody sell him bad mining stocks or gold brick or green goods. It keeps his mind occupied, and perhaps it is better so."—Washington Star.

Tailor Birds of India.

Most curious are the sewing or tailor birds of India—little yellow things not much larger than one's thumb. To escape falling a prey to snakes and monkeys, the tailor bird picks up a dead leaf and flies up into a high tree, and with a fibre for a thread and its bill for a needle sews the leaf on to a green one hanging from the tree; the sides are sewed up, an opening being left at the top. That a nest is swinging in the tree no snake or monkey or even a man would suspect.

An Eloquent German Minister.

In Dr. Von Miquel, who has just been raised by Emperor William to a seat in the Prussian house of lords, the lower house loses one of the most eloquent ministers who ever addressed it. This facility of speech he owes to his French origin, for Miquel is of Huguenot descent, like so many soldiers and statesmen who have made their mark in Prussian history.

"The Lion and the Sun."

Before his departure from Persia Herbert V. Bowen, the retiring minister to that country, was decorated with the grand sash of the Lion and Sun, the most ancient and honorable order of Persia, by the shah, who also presented Mr. Bowen with a massive gold snuff box studded with fifty diamonds and decorated with a picture of Persia's ruler. These will be deposited in the vaults at the State Department until Congress authorizes the recipient of the gifts to accept them.

Oklahoma's Voting Population.

Oklahoma is increasing rapidly in population. Four years ago it cast 53,000 votes. Last year the total vote cast was 72,000, a gain at the rate of 5,000 votes a year. Mississippi, which cast 70,000 votes at the election of 1896, cast only 50,000 at last year's presidential election. It is estimated that Oklahoma will have a voting population of at least 100,000 by 1904.

Patron Saint of Scotland.

St. Andrew was taken as the patron saint of Scotland because his cross (the crux decussata—X) appeared in the sky to Achaulus, King of Scots, and Hingus, King of the Picts, the night before their battle with Athelstane, King of the Saxons, early in the tenth century. (Achaulus died 919). The northern kings, vowed, to adopt the cross as their emblem, and the saint as their patron if they won a victory; being victorious, they kept their vows, and worshipped at St. Andrew's shrine.

A Mouse Cake.

A chocolate cake covered with white mice is sure to be hailed with appreciation by the youngsters at a child's party. A layer cake with chocolate icing should be used. The mice are made of marshmallows, pinched into shape, and finished with white icing for tails and chocolate dots for eyes.

The Abused Mule.

The wickedness of mules is a standing joke, and you are always hearing them abused. Ever see a team of mules run away? Almost every day you see a family horse running away, usually with screaming women and children in the buggy; but did you ever see a mule run away? Did you ever personally know a mule to kick anyone? The fact is, the mule works hard on light food and gets nothing but abuse.—Atchison Globe.

Thinks He Has Found Eden.

Congressman Curtis of Kansas is one of the most ardent admirers of that state. "I don't see," he recently remarked, "why anyone wants to dispute as to the whereabouts of the garden of Eden. It was situated in the heart of the Kansas corn belt."

No Just Cause.

A Wichita, Kan., man brings suit for divorce and says that his wife continually called him a yellow dog. Which shows again the illogical modes of feminine reasoning. The most faithful thing on earth is a yellow dog, particularly when it has a broken tail, fly-bitten ears, and a scalded patch on one hip. Some day the world will build a monument to true constancy and unselfishness, and the symbol at the top of it will be the figure of a yellow dog.—Chicago Journal.

The Unlucky Opal.

There is a rumor, which I give for what it is worth, that when the king looked over the regalia, which was especially brought for his inspection from the tower to Marlborough House, it was decided the unlucky opal should not appear in the crown, or indeed in any other of the royal jewels connected with the coronation of the seventh Edward.—Onlooker.

Aluminum Tubes for Torpedoes.

Torpedo tubes made of aluminum instead of steel have been placed on board of two destroyers at Portsmouth. The use of these tubes at present is experimental, but so considerable is the saving in weight—an important matter in connection with light craft like destroyers—that, if successful, aluminum tubes will be generally used in place of steel tubes.

Granite Pavements of Boston.

Boston streets, where traffic is heavy, are paved with granite blocks set on a base of solid concrete, and with pebbles and concrete grout. Formerly pitch was used in the joints, but now they are filled with a mixture of cement and sand that hardens like stone when it sets. Such a surface is expected to last for decades.

The Languages of Switzerland.

The recent census of Switzerland shows that German is spoken by 2,319,105 persons, French by 733,220, Italian by 292,247. Romansche, a dialect of Latin, is spoken by 38,677 persons—by about 12 persons in a thousand, therefore, French is spoken by 330 persons, Italian by 67 persons, German by 697 persons in a thousand.

That "Overcharged" Feeling.

"Electricity in the atmosphere affects your system," said the scientific physician. "Yes," said the patient, who had paid $10 for two visits. "I agree with you there; there are times when one feels overcharged."

Books on the French Revolution.

Two thousand of the 30,000 books on the French revolution which have been presented to the Bibliotheque Nationale by the British museum, will be kept there. The remaining 28,000 will be sent to the Bibliotheque de la ville.
